

Bold Solutions: Dismantle Racism. Advance Health.

Bold Solutions: Dismantle Racism. Advance Health. aims to fight racism from within health care. The initiative will focus on analysis of how structural racism affects health and health care, designing and testing evidence-based interventions to address racism and improve health of Black Americans, and partnering with external health care organizations, Penn Medicine, and Black communities to advance health. This group will specifically develop, implement, and disseminate a national model for addressing interpersonal, institutional, and structural racism from within health care. Bold actions signal that we mean business now. Scientific investment signals we mean business forever.

Racism is a long-standing crisis that causes disease and death today. Penn is well positioned to lead and overcome resistance to essential change.

Racism is a big, entrenched, multi-faceted problem requiring radical thinking and bold solutions to effect change. We seek to deploy tools from behavioral economics, digital health, innovation science, urban health, communication science, and public health to...
